Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To whom it may concern:

While I do not support any settlement by the DOJ with a company which to any common sense observer is a monopoly, I vigourously object to allowing Microsoft to spread it's hegemony by allowing them to establish the incumbent operating system in educational institutions. There are other alternatives such as LINUX.

The DOJ is responsilble for maintaining the public trust, and as such, should be held responsible for mistakes and errors in judgement. Please let me know how the DOJ is being held accountable for it's actions in this particular case.

I look forward to your response.
